WEDDINGS AT MIMI FLEUR

Thank you for considering Mimi Fleur for your special day. We specialise in weddings and special events and have created stunning arrangements for hundreds of brides, so you can be sure you're in the best hands. Now comes the exciting bit... planning your wedding flowers. We suggest you start by looking at bridal magazines or Pinterest to get an idea of what flowers you would like for your big day. There are hundreds of colours, styles and types of flowers to choose from, deciding what you would like is the first step. Once you have a good idea of what you would like, come in for a free consultation. This usually takes around 60 minutes, and although you can have it at any time, we recommend that you come a maximum of twelve months and a minimum of three weeks before the big day - although we may be able to fit in small weddings at shorter notice, so get in touch and we will help if we can. In this pack you'll find a questionnaire. Please fill this out and bring it along to your consultation. This will help us find out more about you and the facts and figures of your wedding, so that you can focus on the important things: looking at examples of our work, and fine tuning exactly what you want. Please feel free to bring along pages from books or magazines that you love and would like to incorporate into your flowers - these can be of actual bouquets, or just images that portray the mood you would like to create. Any of these can be emailed through to us in advance and we will pop it into your file. We've also included a price list as a guide, although these will vary according to what flowers you choose, how many bouquets and arrangements you require, and when and where your wedding is. We understand everyone has different needs and budgets, and we can help to suggest ideas for beautiful bouquets and displays, whatever your budget. After your consultation, we'll send you a written quote, detailing exact prices.
